CellTrust Presents at Invest Southwest Capital Conference

Sean Moshir Addresses Secure SMS and Market Opportunities in Mobile Security

WHAT: CellTrust, a leading provider of mobile software for the secure and trusted exchange of information on mobile devices, will be attending and discussing its portfolio of products at the Invest Southwest Capital Conference on December 11th. CEO Sean Moshir will be addressing how CellTrust secures the most popular application in the mobile industry as well as how it is increasingly becoming a useful business tool. Attendees can take a closer look at network risks and security measures, virus-free devices, identity theft and fraud, biometrics, special and specific telecom protection and security options for the mobile device.

Over the last 18 months, CellTrust has experienced a nearly 400 percent growth in revenue and will also discuss CellTrust from an investor's perspective, explaining the composition of the company, how they identified the solution to a ubiquitous problem in mobile security, and the scale of market opportunity. CellTrust has recently been recognized as one of the 2008 Comerica Bank Arizona Companies to Watch and is also honored to be one of the thirteen companies invited to present at Invest Southwest Capital Conference out of an available selection of eighty-seven companies.

WHO: CellTrust is a leading provider of mobile software for the secure and trusted exchange of information on mobile devices. CellTrust's patent pending Secure SMS Gateway™ featuring Secure SMS and a suite of mobile applications provide the ability to exchange encrypted information via advanced mobile messaging and marketing solutions to customers and resellers in the financial services, advertising, marketing, education, travel and hospitality, technology, and government sectors, among other global industries.
